

Strathroy-Caradoc Comprehensive Review

Based on a study of job, population and housing growth trends within Strathroy-Caradoc, the Municipality has identified that additional lands will be required to accommodate future growth.

Knowing that land would be required to facilitate future housing and job growth, the Municipality began completing a Comprehensive Review.

What is the Comprehensive Review?

The Comprehensive Review will establish a plan for how the Municipality will manage growth and will determine if an expansion to the Municipality's settlement boundaries is warranted.

If settlement boundary expansions are warranted, the Comprehensive Review will determine the most suitable locations for growth in Strathroy and Mt. Brydges.

Why is it important?

The Municipality is planning for a considerable growth in population, households, and jobs over the next 25 years.

A settlement boundary is...

... the boundary that surrounds the limits of an urban area. These areas are where growth is directed and are the built-up areas where development is concentrated.
